Music Marketing Inc Now Distributes Nightfox Audio

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE - OCT 11, 2023

Music Marketing Inc is proud to announce that they are now distributing Nightfox Audio, a music developer that builds inspiring tools for music makers. As a leading player in the music software distribution industry, Music Marketing Inc understands the importance of providing artists with the best tools to bring their musical ideas to life. Nightfox Audio has done all the hard work of sampling over 100 high-quality instruments so that producers, composers, and beat makers can focus on creating great music.

Their virtual instruments let you stack up to 12 sounds to create brand-new hybrid tones and shape them however you want. This means that you can create unique sounds that have never been heard before. Their plugin is easy to use and intuitive, making it a great tool for both experienced and novice producers.

Nightfox Audio's instruments are carefully curated to ensure that they accurately capture the unique sound and character of real instruments. The company understands that real instruments have unpredictable artifacts, overtones, and harmonics so they wanted to retain all those nuances in their software. The result is a library of instruments that are rich in character and tone.

Music Marketing Inc believes that Nightfox Audio's commitment to quality and innovation makes them an ideal partner and valuable for their global reseller network. End users can expect to see Nightfox Audio at their preferred online music store soon.
